RED MEN POWWOW.

Watstika Tribe Held Ghost Dance on Thursday Night, and Adopted Six Palefaces.

The council-fire of Watstika Tribe, No. 224, was kindled in their wigwam on the 20th sun. Snow moon, for the purpose of conferring the Adoption, Warrior's and Chief's degrees upon the following candidates: Rev. R. C. Love, Dr. T. Atchison Frazer, Dr. F. W. Nunn, Jerry Daughtrey, M. O. Eskew and Claude Guess.

Past Great Sachem L. L. Behout, Geo. O. Ingram, J. J. Freundlich and R. B. Richardson, of Otego Tribe, No. 60, of Paducah, were here, on invitation of Watstika tribe, to take charge of the work and instruct the degree team in the art of converting "palefaces" into genuine Red Men. They brought with them all the regalia necessary for the occasion, and around the council fire some scenes were presented such as were never before witnessed in a lodge room in this city.

After the work had been finished in the wigwam the members were conducted to the restaurant of A. J. Butler, where an elegant lunch was in waiting.

Watstika Tribe was recently organized here and interest among the members had been somewhat lacking, but now as the officiating chiefs and all the "Indians" better understand and appreciate the impressive and instructive lessons taught in the initiatory ceremonies, it is predicted that the Tribe will take on new life and each meeting will be more interesting and beneficial than the previous one.

Watstika Tribe wishes us to say they heartily appreciated the presence and assistance rendered to them by Messrs. Behout, Ingram, Freundlich and Richardson, and that their instruction will prove valuable to them in future councils.

The charter for this tribe will be closed on the second Tuesday in March, and after then the fee for adoption into the order will be higher therefore, those desiring to become members should file their application or before that date, in order to receive the benefit of the special charter rate.

Frankfort Letter.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 24, 1908.
Friend Jenkins—I did not write last week because I did not have any progress to report in the way of legislation; this week is not much better. Two-thirds of the session has already expired, and only two measures have reached the Governor for his signature. One creating an official stenographer to the Governor, he signed, the other giving the House and Senate more clerical force and messengers he promptly vetoed.

House Bill 140 appropriating one half million dollars for the University of Kentucky and the two State Normal schools passed the House by a decisive majority, and will as easily pass the Senate. $200,000 goes to the University and $150,000 each to the Normal schools. This will be good news to the friends of higher education, and means much to Kentucky. Representative John L. Smith, of Lyon, made one of the best speeches in support of this bill, he received great applause when he said, "Give us appropriations for purposes like this, and soon night riders will disappear from Kentucky. If these things had been done long ago, the influence of these schools would have been so great on the public mind that these trusts would not have been tolerated till now, but would have been put down long ago, and there would have been no necessity for "night riders."

The senatorial dead-lock still continues, with no end yet in sight and every day more and more emphasizes the need of the privilege to elect the United States Senator by a direct vote of the people.

Charges and counter charges are made daily by the friends of both Bradley and Beckham, charging the other with insincerity on the local option proposition. The Temperance League came down on them both like an avalanche and demanded them to speak out on the county unit bill. Mr. Bradley pledged the support of himself and his friends to the passage of the bill when it came up on its merits. Mr. Beckham renewed his allegiance to the temperance cause, and promised to step down and out of the race if the Republicans would pass the county unit bill, and give a chance to vote on State wide prohibition next fall. But with all these pledges from the veteran leaders, the whiskey people have by the skill of their friends in the House, kept this bill from coming to a vote until the session is almost gone. The whiskey lobby is given up to be the strongest that ever invaded Frankfort.

Since the State Farmers Institute recently assembled here opposed the repeal of the dog law, its friends seem to be confident that they will keep it on the statutes, but I feel that if it comes to a vote that it will be repealed.

The friends of Hon. Ollie James here were quick to disclaim any desire on his part to allow his name to be used to defeat the nominee for United States Senator, Mr. Beckham. Senator Maxwell is especially out-spoken against what he thinks might be construed to the detriment of his fellow-townsmen. He will probably speak his mind on the floor of the House next joint session. He will advise the friends of Ollie James to vote for Mr. Beckham as long as his name is before the caucus. Presently is making a good senator, and a better Democrat never landed in Frankfort.

In the discussion of the Educational bill Representative Porter, of Webster, made a gallant defense of Kentucky, and made a plea for the common schools that will be long remembered. He is an old hand at the legislative business, and therefore is making one of the best members we have. The people of Webster made no mistake in sending Porter to the House.

Another of our neighbors, George Wilson, of Union, is a wheel horse in the House. He will one day go to Congress from the second district. Temperance, and the laboring man never had a more fearless champion. The tobacco bill comes up next week, and promises a lively time. It seems that the different sections of the tobacco growers cannot agree, and I would not be surprised to see the bill defeated outright, or so emasculated that it would not be any relief to the farmer.

Sincerely yours,
M. F. P.

James For Beckham.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 23.—Ollie M. James, who is now in New York, where he is to undergo an operation, and who was voted for United States Senator on last Friday, today sent the following telegram to Senator P. S. Maxwell, who is Senator from Mr. James' district:

Senator P. S. Maxwell, Frankfort, Ky.: Gov. Beckham is the nominee of the Democratic party in Kentucky for United States Senator. As such he is entitled to the loyal support of all Democrats. I sincerely trust all my friends will support him.
(Signed) Ollie James.

To Rent.

A suite of rooms, (3) over the new restaurant in Pierce building. Will rent all together or singly.

JAMES FOR SENATOR.

Representative Arnett Casts Vote For Our Congressman.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21.—Believing that the time has come when the Democratic members of the Legislature should unite and elect a Democrat to the United States Senate, and believing that J. C. W. Beckham cannot be that man, Louis W. Arnett, Representative from Covington, today cast his vote for Ollie M. James, Congressman from the First district. In the speech he made explaining this vote Mr. Arnett declared that it was apparent that Mr. Beckham could not be elected, and he proposed Mr. James as a man on whom all Democrats could unite, and who would harmonize all factions, as well as being able to fill a seat in the United States Senate with credit to Kentucky.

Mr. Arnett said he had voted for Mr. Beckham day after day, and had done everything he could to elect him, but now that it is apparent that he cannot be elected, no matter for what reasons, he felt that the time had come for another man to be chosen, and that man he believed should be Mr. James.

For the good of the Democratic party and to save it from defeat Mr. Arnett dared to take a step which, he said, might end political preferment for him, but he believed the Democratic party greater and higher than any man and it to be considered first, before any selfish motives.

Mr. Arnett dared to take the lead in this new movement to solve the senatorial deadlock, and now that he has paved the way and made the pathway clear, others will follow him. Many of the members of the two houses have voted for Mr. Beckham in spite of their feelings against him and not because they really wanted him to be elected Senator. In addition there are others who have voted for Mr. Beckham believing that he was the nominee and honestly trying to elect him. But many of these latter have now come to the conclusion that, like Mr. Arnett, they have voted for him long enough. That they have given him more than a fair chance to be elected and that now they owe their allegiance first to the Democratic party.

Invitation Accepted.

The session of the 1st. Presbyterian Church passed the following resolutions, whereas:

The Baptist brethren of this city presented an invitation to attend the dedication services of their new building on March 1st, 1908, and on motion the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, the congregation of the Baptist church of this city are to dedicate their new building on next Sabbath; be it therefore resolved, that we the congregation of the First Presbyterian church do extend to them our congratulations on their success in erecting so beautiful a structure for the worship of our God, and we do with pleasure accept their invitation to participate in the opening exercises, and further more we implore the blessings of Almighty God to prosper them in the work of the Kingdom of Christ.

Adopted at a meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church, Marion, Ky., Feb. 23, 1908.

Fish Declares Contest Closed.

New York, Feb. 23.—Snyvesant Fish announced to-night that the contest in the Chicago courts to prevent the voting of Illinois Central Railroad stock held by the Union Pacific Railroad Company was now closed. Mr. Fish made the following statement:

"I went into the contest at the solicitation of many stockholders, who had for many years entrusted me with their proxies and on the advice of counsel with great reluctance. My effort has been to protect the Illinois Central and my own large holdings therein of 12,432 shares from exploitation by men who acts in other corporations have been denounced after full investigation by officers of the Federal Government and are involved in suits in the courts here in New York, in Utah and elsewhere, and have done my best to advise the stockholders of the situation.

"When Mr. Harriman and his associates shall at length be forced to answer the questions, which they have been evading for a year past, the contention that the destiny of the Illinois Central and the interest of the State of Illinois therein should not be entrusted to him and those selected by him will be justified.

"I take this opportunity of thanking the holders of more than 300,000 shares of the stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company for having honored me with their proxies and their confidence in this contest. Submitting to, but not acquiescing in, Judge Bell's decision, the contest in the courts is now closed."

Beard-Terry.

Cupid is ever busy, and does not confine his work altogether to the young and tender in years, but when he gets busy with the older ones, he usually makes successful work, this is evidenced in the case of Mrs. Caroline Beard and Mr. Jas. Terry of this city. Monday morning they, accompanied by Mr. W. L. Moore, left for Princeton, Ky., where they were, recently married at Mitchell's Hotel, Rev. Pettit officiating. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for Joplin, Missouri where they will visit friends for several days before returning to their home in this city.

Mrs. Terry is our estimable County Clerk's foster mother and is a splendid christian lady.

Mr. Terry is a gentleman with exemplary habits.

To Tobacco Growers

To the tobacco growers of Crittenden County:—Whereas, there is 90 per cent. of the contemplated tobacco crop of 1908, is now pooled. All those isolated farmers that have not pooled their tobacco, and wishes to do so, if they will meet me in Marion on Saturday 29th. I will take their pledges. The pooling business will not stand open but a short time.

Respectfully, P. C. STEPHENS, County Organizer for A. S. of E.

Called to the Growling and Prospering West.

At a congregational meeting held Sunday immediately after the morning services at the First Presbyterian Church the resignation of the Pastor, Rev. Benjamin Andres was accepted. Mr. Andres had received a call to go to the Missouri Presbytery and will go and take charge of three churches near Marshall, Mo., but in Saline county. He will reside at Napton, Mo., and is now busy preparing his household goods for shipment so as to be able to assume his new charge March 15th.

Mrs. Andres who was entertained at the "Ladies Tea" by Mrs. Dupuy, Wednesday afternoon, will leave today for Louisville to visit her parents for a couple of weeks after which she will join her husband in Missouri.

Notice.

To all the farmers having pooled tobacco not yet delivered, you will please write me a card stating about how many thousand you have to deliver so I can have an idea how much is out yet. Very respy.,
W. D. BATUD, Manager, Association House.

NONOGENARIAN PASSED AWAY

Death of Uncle Harvey Travis, the County's Oldest Citizen and State's Oldest Mason.

James Harvey Travis, who is familiarly known as "Uncle Harvey", died at his home, six miles East of Marion, Tuesday morning, Feb. 25, 1908, at 10:30 o'clock, in his ninety-second year. He had been in failing health for several weeks, and his death had been expected, but there will be many moist eyes when it is known that his spirit has crossed the dark river.

He was held in high esteem by all who knew him and his semi-annual visits here to his son, Albert, were the pleasure of his latter years. He was the oldest Mason in Kentucky, having joined the lodge at Princeton in 1839. At the time of his death he was a member of Zion Hill Lodge at Weston, and his burial was held under the auspices of that lodge Wednesday afternoon at the Crowell graveyard.

He was a member of the Cave Spring Cumberland church, and for many years had been a ruling elder of that congregation.

He was born near Copperas Springs school house, Dec. 5, 1816, thirty years before Marion was laid out, and never lived further than ten miles from where he was born.

He was the son of James Travis and Rachel Blakely. He was twice married, his first wife being Mary Brantly who died in 1864, leaving nine children. His second was Mrs. Elizabeth Ford Crowell, who survives him and who also is the mother of nine children. His living sons are: Ewell, of Weston; Lieurgins, of Sturgis; Joseph Hunter, of New Mexico; Lorenza Dow, of Whiting, Mo.; Sylvester, of Blackford; Daniel, of Mattoon; Albert H., of this city; Irvin, of Gladstone; John, German, George, the latter of whom is blind, live at home. The two daughters are: Mrs. Fessie Guess, wife of John, of Tribune, and Mrs. Florence Culley, wife of John Culley, of near Repton.

He is survived by one brother, Lindsey, who is nearing the ninetieth milestone and by one sister, Susan Bramley, who has been an octogenarian for years. The mother of the Rev. Jas. E. Price, of this city, who died a few years ago in her ninety-second year, was his sister.

His son, W. C. M. Travis, was elected County Attorney several years ago, but died soon after he was elected.

Purchased Millinery Stock.

Mrs. E. L. Franklin and Miss Carrie Hughes have purchased Miss Fleta Barnes' stock of millinery at Salem and will continue business at the same place.

These ladies are now in St. Louis selecting their goods and learning the new styles for Spring and Summer. They will be ready for business by April first and invite all to call and see them.

Found.

On Feb. 22nd, I found a pocket book containing between ten cents and sixty-four dollars. The owner may have same by describing it and contents and paying for this advertisement. J. M. FREEMAN.

Oratorical Contest.

At the School Auditorium last Saturday evening, Feb. 22nd, the Annual Oratorical Contest took place. Rev. Adams invoked divine blessing on the occasion.

The piano solo rendered by Misses Sallie Woods, Gwendoline Haynes and Lucile Nunn and the vocal solo by Mrs. Fannie Walker added much to the pleasure of the evening. The song given by six of the first grade boys was especially good.

Each contestant showed that he or she had given the subject under discussion much study. The compositions were all very good and well delivered.

Mr. Jones Gill was awarded the medal. His subject being "My Own United States;" it was well written and splendidly delivered.

The other contestants were: Misses Allie Wilborn, Velda Hicklin and Nellie Sutherland and Mr. Hollis Franklin.

The Judges were Profs. McCartney, of Henderson, Gerton, of Morganfield, and Richards, of Princeton.

Entertained at Supper.

The popular and enterprising firm of Davis & Davis, issued invitations to about 100 of their friends to take supper with them at the New Crittenden Hotel on the evening of Friday, Feb. 21st, at 8 o'clock and most of them who were in the city accepted and a jolly good time was had around the sumptuous repast served by mine host, Q. M. Conyer.

The affair was purely a social and friendly function given by the Beehive Block Clothiers and Gents Furnishers in recognition of the handsome patronage they received in their Tailoring Department recently when their tailor was here with samples from Chicago and spent two days supplying their friends with new suits, trousers, fancy vests, spring overcoats and various other requisites to the well dressed man. On that occasion they booked some 70 odd orders and were justly proud of it and concluded to celebrate and have some of their friends celebrate with them.

James Suffers Intense Pain.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Word from the bedside of Ollie James, in New York, is not entirely reassuring, his friends here say. The operation was a delicate one. An instrument was inserted through his nose and a spoonful of pus was drained from underneath the frontal bone. He suffers excruciating pain, and the hypodermic has been resorted to for relief. His bosom friend, Representative Rhinock, is with Mr. James, and will stay at his side indefinitely. Mrs. James also is with him.

The surgeons who performed the operation on Ollie James are apprehensive that it may be necessary to make a direct incision in his forehead, which would be serious.

About a year ago Mr. James submitted to an operation similar to the one which he has just undergone. For a time he had high hopes that it would be successful.

Big Real Estate Deal.

Thos. McConnell, the Main street merchaat, hrs closed a deal with W. G. Carnahan for the two brick store rooms on the northeast corner of the public square. The consideration, we learn, was $4000. The buildings are now occupied by J. S. McMurry & Co., on the corner, and A. M. Gilbert in the next room. It is fine property and is one of the best corners in the city.

GILL HOUSE.

I thank my friends in this and adjoining counties for past patronage, and ask them to come to see me when in Marion. I am located on Main street. Will welcome you at any time. I invite my farmer friends, too. There is no one so deservng as the tiller of the soil, they are the staff of the land. Thanking you in advance for future patronage, I remain, your true friend,
MRS. SARAH GILL.

Every lady in town will have a chance to bid at the "Father Knickerbocker" Dutch Auction.

His second was Mrs. Elizabeth Ford-Crowell, who survives him and who also is the mother of nine children. His living sons are: Ewell, of Weston; Lieurgus, of Sturgis; Joseph Hunter, of New Mexico; Lorenza Dow, of Whiting, Mo.; Sylvester, of Blackford; Daniel, of Mattoon; Albert H., of this city; Irvin, of Gladstone; John, Herman, George, the latter of whom is blind, live at home. The two daughters are: Mrs. Tressie Guess, wife of John, of Tribune, and Mrs. Florence Colley, wife of John Colley, of near Repton.

He is survived by one brother, Lindsey, who is nearing the ninetieth milestone and by one sister, Susan Brantly, who has been an octogenarian for years. The mother of the Rev. Jas. P. Price, of this city, who died a few years ago in her ninety-second year, was his sister.

His son, W. C. M. Travis, was elected County Attorney several years ago, but died soon after he was elected.

Purchased Millinery Stock.

Mrs. E. L. Franklin and Miss Carrie Hughes have purchased Miss Fleta Barnes' stock of millinery at Salem and will continue business at the same place.

These ladies are now in St. Louis selecting their goods and learning the new styles for Spring and Summer. They will be ready for business by April first and invite all to call and see them.

Found.

On Feb. 22nd, I found a pocket book containing between ten cents and sixty-four dollars. The owner may have same by describing it and contents and paying for this advertisement.

Oratorical Contest.

At the School Auditorium last Saturday evening, Feb. 22nd, the Annual Oratorical Contest took place.

Rev. Adams invoked divine blessing on the occasion.

The piano solo rendered by Misses Sallie Woods, Gwendoline Haynes and Lucile Nunn and the vocal solo by Mrs. Fannie Walker added much to the pleasure of the evening. The song given by six of the first grade boys was especially good.

Each contestant showed that he or she had given the subject under discussion much study. The compositions were all very good and well delivered.

Mr. Jones Gill was awarded the medal. His subject being "My Own United States;" it was well written and splendidly delivered.

The other contestants were: Misses Allie Wilborn, Velda Hicklin and Nellie Sutherland and Mr. Hollis Franklin.

The Judges were Profs. McCartney, of Henderson, Gerton, of Morgantown, and Richards, of Princeton.

Entertained at Supper.

The popular and enterprising firm of Davis & Davis, issued invitations to about 100 of their friends to take supper with them at the New Crittenden Hotel on the evening of Friday, Feb. 21st, at 8 o'clock and most of them who were in the city accepted and a jolly good time was had around the sumptuous repast served by mine host, Q. M. Conyer.

The affair was purely a social and friendly function given by the Beehive Block Clothiers and Gents Furnishers in recognition of the handsome patronage they received in their Tailoring Department recently when their tailor was here with samples from Chicago and spent two days supplying their friends with new suits, trousers, fancy vests, spring overcoats and various other requisites to the well dressed man. On that occasion they booked some 70 odd orders and were justly proud of it and concluded to celebrate and have some of their friends celebrate with them.

James Suffers Intense Pain.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Word from the bedside of Ollie James, in New York, is not entirely reassuring, his friends here say. The operation was a delicate one. An instrument was inserted through his nose and a spoonful of pus was drained from underneath the frontal bone. He suffers excruciating pain, and the hypodermic has been resorted to for relief. His bosom friend, Representative Rhinock, is with Mr. James, and will stay at his side indefinitely. Mrs. James also is with him.

The surgeons who performed the operation on Ollie James are apprehensive that it may be necessary to make a direct incision in his forehead, which would be serious.

About a year ago Mr. James submitted to an operation similar to the one which he has just undergone. For a time he had high hopes that it would be successful.

Big Real Estate Deal.

Thos. McConnell, the Main street merchant, has closed a deal with W. G. Carnahan for the two brick store rooms on the northeast corner of the public square. The consideration, we learn, was $4000. The buildings are now occupied by J. S. McMurphy & Co., on the corner, and A. M. Gilbert in the next room. It is fine property and is one of the best corners in the city.

GILL HOUSE.

I thank my friends in this and adjoining counties for past patronage, and ask them to come to see me when in Marion. I am located on Main street. Will welcome you at any time. I invite my farmer friends too. There is no one so deserving as the tiller of the soil; they are the staff of the land. Thanking you in advance for future patronage, I remain, your true friend,

MRS. SARAH GILL.

Every lady in town will have a chance to bid at the "Father Knickerbocker" Dutch Auction.

State Board of Health Report.

Frankfort, Ky., February 19.—(Special.)—The biennial report of the State Board of Health, closing the 29th year of its history, was presented to the Governor and placed upon desks of members of the General Assembly to-day. On account of the popular interest in the prevention of tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria and other communicable diseases which has been aroused in recent years, and the plain, practical way these matters are treated in the report, it is likely to attract unusual attention. In fact, the reports of the board have already been made the text-book on public health in the Western Normal School, as will likely be done by other colleges throughout the state.

After showing that the annual drain upon the material resources of the State and Nation from preventable sickness constitutes the greatest tax which is levied upon our people, and is just as much a tax as if paid into the public treasuries, the report dwells upon and gives reasons for the legislative and popular indifference in regard to it. It shows that within the United States last year there were 1,500,000 deaths and 4,200,000 cases of sickness, involving the comfort and material prosperity of 5,000,000 homes and 25,000,000 people. At least one-third of this sickness and mortality is declared to be distinctly preventable, of the deaths 150,000 being due to tuberculosis and 50,000 in typhoid fever. Only 210,000 men were killed in both armies during the five years of the Civil War, while within the past five years 750,000 people have died in this country from tuberculosis and 250,000 from typhoid fever. In the face of these hard, cruel facts, the U. S. Government, within the last ten years has spent $40,000,000 for the eradication of cholera in hogs and chickens, tick fever in cattle, scab in sheep, and pests to crops and fruit and shadestrees, but has never lifted a hand to protect its men, women and children from these domestic pestilences which destroy health and life every day in every year.

The facts and figures of Kentucky are of even more direct importance to our people, and no less impressive. In spite of our earnest efforts we have no system of vital statistics, but information gathered voluntarily from our physicians show that for the average year in this State there are 11,979 cases and 5,438 deaths from tuberculosis; 22,512 cases and 1,683 deaths from typhoid fever; 16,317 cases and 1,835 deaths from the diarrhoeal diseases of childhood; 5,181 cases and 1,068 deaths from diphtheria; 22,383 cases and 923 deaths from scarlet fever; a total of 79,532 cases and 12,116 deaths from these six preventable diseases annually.

Adam Smith first insisted, and later political economists have all agreed that a State can have no more valuable asset than that represented in its healthy men, women and children. They place the average value of an adult human life at $1,000, some of them very much higher, and argue that farms, factories, mines and forests have any real value only so long as there is a live, virile, healthy population to open, develop and enjoy them. The medical profession of Kentucky, united as it never was before, believing that at least one-third of the deaths which come to our people every year are preventable, stands as one man for its accomplishment, but is confronted and thwarted at every turn by a popular indifference which is every day reflected in our legislative bodies, courts and other official activities.

In dealing with this problem the report urges that boards of health, National and State and Local, be so supported that their officials can devote their entire time to their duties, are just as important as the judicial or other departments, and that this must be realized if this great waste of health and life is to be stopped. In Pennsylvania the State Board of Health is given an annual appropriation of $1,000,000, in Massachusetts, $135,500; New York $129,000; Illinois, 119,000; Florida, with one-fifth of our population, $70,000, and so on down, Kentucky, at the foot of the list of States reporting, giving only $5,000 to protect the health and lives of 2,225,000 people, about enough to pay the postage of a properly conducted department. Much has been accomplished in the emergencies of epidemics, and in popular education, largely through the generosity of the public press, but the work has been hampered at every point for lack of funds.

The board asks that its appropriation be increased to $25,000 in order that it may more effectively meet its obligations to the people. Out of this it proposes to establish a State laboratory with free service to every physician and citizen in the analysis of water and other causes and products of disease with the view of their prevention. This is absolutely essential if the benefits of modern scientific knowledge are to be applied practically for the protection of home, health and life. It also proposes to make a sanitary survey of the rivers, springs, drainage sheds and other influences affecting the sources of the water supply looking to such comprehensive, far-reaching action as will avert the decimation of population and the billions of expense which a neglect of such precautions has brought to the older civilized nations and States. In connection with the teachers' and farmers' institutes and other activities it proposes to conduct a campaign of education upon these life-saving questions which will finally reach into every county and school district in the State. The board insists that funds proposed for its work should not be looked upon as an expense, but as the best investment which the State can make, as is true in all educational work.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—drains blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 30 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruse your finger, and down it's got red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply common sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

CERTAIN RESULTS

Many a Kentucky Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Kentucky. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical sufferer. Read the following statement:

Mrs. L. Varalli, living at 923 Fifth St., Louisville, Ky., says: "I am happy to say that Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and other members of my family. I frequently had attacks of backache and kidney trouble before using your remedy, but after using two boxes of the pills the trouble was entirely cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends for I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly do all that is claimed for them."

Night Riders Visit Gracey.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Feb. 19.—The little town of Gracey, in the western part of Christian county, and on the border line of Trigg, was the scene of the latest operations of night riders in this region. A band of about twenty masked men, all armed and wearing on their shoulders the night rider sash of white cloth, invaded the place shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night, whipped a white man, fired guns promiscuously and left verbal warning for all "trifling negroes" to go to work are get ready to be punished by the clan. The raid was well planned, and apparently was accomplished without a hitch. The gang is said to have tied its horses at a point west of the town. The members entered on foot, and their advent was signaled by the discharge of firearms.

Marching swiftly down the principal streets they halted in front of the Cumberland telephone exchange. Two of the men entered and covered the operator, Thomas McBryde, with guns and ordered him to accompany them. Proceeding down the street the night riders made Town Marshal Gano Waters a prisoner.

Taking their captives with them, the masked men hurried to the boarding house opposite the Illinois Central depot and demanded that a white man who was spending the night there should come out to them. This man is said to have been in the locality for some time, ostensibly engaged in stock dealing. There were rumors out that he was a detective, and that he was attempting to gather information concerning night riders. His name is given as Jacob Wooten, but nothing of his identity has been ascertained. He was in bed when the house was surrounded, and the raiders permitted him to put on his clothes.

They forced him to accompany them about three hundred yards up the railroad track, where they whipped him severely in the presence of McBryde and the Town Marshal. He was then told he would be allowed to spend the remainder of the night in Gracey, but he must leave town by morning. Nothing has been seen of him to-day.

The negro boarding housekeeper was commanded by the band to tell all "trifling negroes" to go to work at once or they would be attended to at the next visit.

Returning to Gracey, Thomas McBryde was taken to the telephone exchange and turned loose. Marshal Waters was ordered to go into a drug store just across the street. The night riders then left town the way they had entered.

While in Gracey many shots were fired. A number of citizens were awake and at their homes, but when the first shots were discharged all lights in the dwellings were quickly extinguished, and no effort was made to repulse the raiders or to interfere in any way with their operations.

Opinions and Reasons Therefor.

A man may entertain any opinion that pleases him so long as he does not trouble his neighbors with it; but when he begins to give his reasons for it, it becomes quite another matter. By itself, an opinion is quite unassailable; it is private property. It may be wrong, but no matter; so long as a man hoards it in the depths of his own bosom, it is nobody's concern; he is responsible to nothing but his own conscience; but when he begins a campaign in the hope of convincing others that he is right, or with the intention of making converts, and announces it with a trumpet tongue, his troubles begin. He is then compelled to give his reasons, and, since the world began, reasons have been known to be awkward and entangling things. They fall under the examination of acute minds, and there is no hope for them if they do not appeal to the common-sense of the public.—Joel Chandler Harris.

Grippe is sweeping the country. Stop it with preventives, before it gets deeply seated. To check early colds with these Little Candy Cold Cure Tablets is surely sensible and safe. Preventives contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh or sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were promptly broken. Also good for feverish children. Large box 48 tablets 25c. Vest pocket boxes 5 cents. Sold by Jas. H. Orme.

Ways in Which He May be Helped

The youth away from home, exposed to lonely evenings and their dullness, should avail himself of the opportunities provided by the churches and by the Young Men's Christian Association. His first step in a strange city should be to unite with a Christian Endeavor Society, after making himself known to a pastor of his own denomination. The easiest thing in the world is to drop habits of church going when in a great town away from old friends and companions, and also it is almost the worst thing he can do. He should keep fast hold on the faith of the home and take up some line of study in an evening class, remembering that swifter than a weaver's shuttle his golden youth must slip away, and that while it lasts it is itself an amazingly valuable capital. —Ex.

A weak stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. It's a pity that sick ones continue to drug the or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative has and is promptly helping so many sick ones. It goes direct to the cause of the diseases. Test this vital truth, and see. Sold by Jas. H. Orme.

Teach Him to Have a Horror of Debt.

Whatever work a boy undertakes he should do it heartily for the work's sake. The boy who rises to the top is the boy who does more than he is obliged to do, who is all-round in his intelligence, and who thinks of something besides the end of the day and his weekly wage. Teach the boy to choose his associates with care. Teach him to spend less than he earns. Fill him with an absolute, creeping horror of borrowing, of debt and of theft. On the shores of our commercial sea are many derelicts, many woeful wrecks, which would have out-riden every storm if they only had been thoroughly honest. All boys need a certain Spartan training in strict, stern integrity. Our colleges, where rich men's sons often have too much money to spend; our banks, where temptation lies in wait for the weak; our shops, our homes are all in need of a return to that primitive fear of God which kept men humble and prayerful, taught them to be scrupulous in their dealings and led them to trust in the strength of the Lord Almightly.

The Woolf Affair.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins,

Marion, Ky.

Mr. Editor:—I read last week in the RECORD-PRESS, which has always been a welcome visitor in our home since we have lived in Houston Texas, a clipping from a Borden, Indiana, paper, in regard to the recent resignation of H. C. Woolf as cashier of the Borden State Bank. Several weeks since, I read the account of his arrest in the Louisville, Kentucky, papers.

Knowing that H. C. Woolf, known amongst his friends as "Cleve," has many friends and acquaintances in your city, and in the surrounding country, and knowing further that they would appreciate correct information concerning the South Greenfield, Mo. trouble, I am persuaded that a letter for your paper, setting out in detail this trouble, would be of more than general interest to at least a certain per cent. of your readers, and especially coming from one who made a personal and painstaking investigation of every detail, connected with the affair.

About two years ago, when I was first advised that a trouble of some character existed and that said Woolf had been indicted by the grand jury of Dale county, Mo., I immediately boarded the train and went to Greenfield, the county seat of said county, at which place and at South Greenfield, about two and a half miles distant, I spent two weeks.

At my request the officials of the bank, of which Woolf had been cashier, turned over all the books, papers, letters, drafts, checks, etc., of every character and kind for my examination and inspection. I found that Woolf had been a partner in the produce business, with one Ed Meyer, and they had been buying eggs and chickens and other domestic fowls, shipping some to various wholesale houses in the city of St. Louis and to Eastern markets. When a car of such produce had been bought, paid for and was loaded and ready for shipment, a draft would be drawn by the produce firm against the company to whom such shipment was consigned, and this draft was deposited in the South Greenfield bank, of which Woolf was cashier, to the credit of the produce business.

The produce firm, managed by said Meyer, would continue the purchasing of other produce, writing checks on the bank in payment for same, and against the credit received by the depositing of such drafts, for carload lots consigned to St. Louis and Eastern markets.

The directors of said bank were fully aware that these drafts were being deposited and this account handled in this manner, and which I was advised by the Greenfield banks and bankers elsewhere was the same as allowed to all of their regular customers, and which was no departure whatever, from banking measures in vogue elsewhere.

After continuing business in this manner for several months, two shipments were made and drafts drawn, aggregating something like $2800, which amount, in the usual manner, was placed to credit the account of the produce firm, and the checking account continued as usual. Upon their arrival at their destination, of the shipment referred to, the company to whom they were consigned had become involved, and refused the payment of the drafts, which had been placed to the credit of the produce firm at South Greenfield, by the South Greenfield Bank.

In the meantime, Meyer had checked out several hundreds of dollars. The bank assuming that the drafts would be paid as usual, had allowed the checking by Meyer to continue in payment for a new lot of produce. About this time, the drafts came back to the bank unpaid. The produce firm was doing business on a limited amount of capital, and about all they were worth, was represented by the two shipments of produce referred to above, for which they could not make collections. This being the case, they did not have the money to take up the unpaid drafts, which Meyer had drawn against the commission house and on which payment had been refused. Subsequent collections, which were made by the produce firm and turned over to the bank by said firm, reduced the amount of the indebtedness, caused by the return of the drafts unpaid, to about $1800. The directors were notified of the condition of affairs and pre-emptorily dismissed Woolf from the position as cashier, demanding the immediate return of the money, covering the indebtedness of the produce firm to the bank.

Woolf had put all the surplus money he had into the produce business and had nothing whatever to meet the obligation, and Meyer had no property whatever. Woolf tendered to the bank his note for the entire indebtedness, to bear interest and to be paid to the bank at the rate of $50 per month, with interest until said debt should be liquidated. This was refused by the bank, who demanded of the Bonding Company that they make good his bond.

The bonding company had their representative visit South Greenfield and make a thorough inspection of the books, and found there not one single trace of fraud, or an attempt in any way to illegitimately use the bank's funds, and declined to make good the loss, taking the position, and justly too, that there was no fraud, but a debt on the part of Woolf and Meyer to said bank.

At a subsequent session of the grand jury, two of the directors of the bank, had Woolf indicted, however, against the advice of some of the best legal talent in the country and against the advice of some of the directors of said bank, the lawyers and the directors taking the position that there was absolutely no evidence of fraud.

I talked with the county officials, and one of the most prominent attorneys in the state of Missouri, the Hon. Berry G. Thurman, who has since been elected District Judge, with other banks in Greenfield, with the produce firms, and with the Judge of the District Court at that time, and without a single exception, every one assured me that there was absolutely no evidence of fraud in the entire matter, which coupled with my own investigation, brands the whole proceedings against Woolf as an unjust prosecution.

Woolf, together with myself and his friends who were interested, and his attorneys, demanded a speedy trial of the case, the bank, however, acting under the advice of their attorneys, had the case dismissed and it was supposed to be settled for all time.

The present trouble seems to be a spirit of vindictiveness, which has prompted some of the directors of the bank to institute the present proceedings, more as a matter of persecution than prosecution, and there can be but one result, a full and complete vindication of Cleve Woolf, who, from his earliest childhood, has maintained a spotless and an unblemished character, and a reputation for scrupulous honesty and integrity that any man, young or old, might envy.

Yours very truly,
H. C. GLENN.

Offie James in Hospital.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Representative Offie James is ill at a hospital in New York City. He is said to be suffering from necrosis of the bone of the forehead or from a mastoid growth which will necessitate an operation. Mrs. James and Representative Rhinock are with him. His condition is said to be serious.

Faith.

I will not doubt, though all my ships at sea
Come drifting home with broken masts and sails.
I shall believe the Hand which never fails,
From seeming evil worketh good for me;

And though I weep because these sails are battered,
Still will I cry, while my best hopes
he shattered,
'O! trust in thee.'

I will not doubt, though all my prayers return
Unanswered from the still, white realm above;

I shall believe in an all-wise Love
Which has refused these things for which I yearn;

And though at times I cannot keep from grieving,

Yet the pure order of my fixed believing

Undimmed shall burn.

I will not doubt though sorrows fall like rain,

And troubles swarm like bees
about a hive;

I shall believe the heights for which I strive

Are only reached by anguish and by
pain;

And though I groan and tremble
with my crosses,

I yet shall see, through my severest losses,

The greatest pain.

I will not doubt; well anchored in the faith,

Like some staunch ship, my soul
braves every gale,

So strong its courage that it will not fail

To breast the mighty unknown sea of Death.

Oh, may I cry when body parts with spirit,

"I do not doubt," so listening worlds
may hear it,

With my last breath.

—Wheeler Wilcox.

Almost All Obstacles May be Overcome.

There is need just now of a reassertion of the democratic idea that all honest work is meritorious, and that a man's a man for a that.
The old dispute between a liberal and a limited school education is continually revived, and the controversy between those who assume that only the immediately practical preparation is necessary or desirable, and those who believe in the wider culture of the humanities, cannot be arbitrarily settled.

We shall have reason to feel it is a wholesome sign of the times when American cease to be indifferent to politics. A country in which any man, however obscure his origin, may, through determination to overcome obstacles, arrive at the highest distinctions in the gift of the Republic, ought to stimulate young men to splendid endeavor and rich achievement. One regrets to observe an aversion on the part of many men to study political economy, and a singular lack of responsibility in wielding that power of the unit, which in the aggregate is so tremendous a force in our national life.—

The Dutch Auction.

A "Father Knickerbocker" Dutch Auction seems to be the thing just now, according to the Cresson (Pa.) Record.

Some enterprising merchant offers the "Father Knickerbocker" Mission Clock the first day at the regular price and then reduces the price 50 cents each day until sold.

This creates great excitement, especially among the ladies, each one waiting and planning to buy it at her own price, when lo! some one snaps it up, then every one goes and buys a "Father Knickerbocker" just to show that they can have a "good time" and the "Dutch Auction" has done its work, every one is happy, the town has "better times" and the dealer has boomed his business, besides having his share of the fun.

Which of our Local Merchants will be first to have a "Dutch Auction" here?

Dear Sir:—Have not heard from you through the valuable old RECORD PRESS. I am afraid you did not get the letter that I sent you Monday, so I am writing you again.

I am at the place mentioned above and will be here for a month or two, do not know when I will leave here. Night operator says I can hold an office alright by the first of April, so that makes this old boy feel good.

I will now try to describe this place to you. It has about three hundred inhabitants and is situated about three-fourths of a mile from the railroad and is the county seat of Campbell county. It has two or three churches, three or four stores and a postoffice.

It is situated between two hills and a small mountain between it and the depot. After I left Corbin I came through seven tunnels and do not know how many during the night while I was asleep.

Am just South of the Cumberland mountains a few miles, and by this you can judge the county for yourself for it would be hard for me to give you a very brief description of it at all.

Will close for this time. Hope to hear from you through the dear old Press soon. Sincerely yours, JEFF NEWCOM.

Corn Wanted.

We will pay the highest market price for white corn shucked. See us before selling.

MARION MILLING CO. Incorporated.

Deeds Recorded.

M. Schwab to Loewenthal & Co. 65 acres on Crooked Creek, $100 and other considerations.

J. H. Young to Jas. H. Agee 10 acres, exchange of land.

Cochran & Pickens to E. T. Franklin house and lot in Marion, $350.

J. A. Daughtery to Herrin Bros. 130 acres on Hurricane creek, $3275.

FREDONIA.

Mrs. Heath returned last week from a visit to relatives at Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. W. F. Akridge, of Marion, was the guest of relatives here last week.

The public school was out here last Friday and an entertainment was given Friday night at Loyd's hall for the benefit of the school library. $19.75 was taken in. The entertainment was a splendid success and speaks well for Prof. Crow and his assistant, Miss Cora Buckner, as the large crowd was well pleased with the showing made by the pupils.

Prof. Crow will teach a subscription school for two months.

Mrs. G. W. Stone was here Sunday to see her mother, Mrs. W. T. Reid.

Ben Wiggington, of Marion, has been in this vicinity several days.

Flour 60 cents per sack.

Bennett & Son.

C. F. Jean, of Princeton, has established a branch produce house here and Mr. Hale, of Marion, is manager.

Mrs. Annie Hillyard, wife of Mack Hillyard, who was operated on for appendicitis last week, is reported to be improving and is thought to be out of danger. Dr. Bailey performed the operation.

Several cases of grip in this section just now.

We buy chickens, eggs, butter, etc. Bennett & Son.

Mrs. Butts, of Kuttawa, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Willis Ray, last week.

Henry & Henry, of Marion, were here Wednesday to put up a monument at the grave of Mrs. Charlie Travis at the graveyard hill two miles East of town. It is a fine piece of work.

Lela, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patterson, has been very sick, but we are glad to note that she is much better at present.

Cheap Lands.

Jas. B. Pierce, of Elizabethtown, Ky., was here Tuesday in the interest of his company, which is now selling land near New Orleans, La. His company owns and controls a vast average of level prairie land thirty to fifty miles from New Orleans, the greatest Southern market.

The lands are level, black, rich soil and produce wonderful crops of sugar cane, corn, cotton and vegetables of all kinds. These lands are being bought up very fast owing to their cheapness, good soil and location. Mr. Pierce and his associates have sold over 46,000 acres of these lands in the past forty-five days.

He has an office in Elizabethtown, Ky., and secures rates for you on first and third Tuesdays of each month for you to go and inspect said lands. They are selling these lands at $3.00 to $5.00 per acre in section blocks. If you are looking for a safe, sound investment in good farm land, and where you can be near the best market and near good schools, now is your chance.

If you cannot buy as much as a section you had better get one of your friends or some one to go in with you, buy a section and then divide it to suit you. We know such lands cannot be found at these prices in any other state.

IRMA.

There is considerable sickness in this community, but we are glad to report Messrs. Kimsey and Johnson better.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Slayden, of St. Louis, are visiting her father, J. P. Sullenger.

R. C. McMaster has moved from Wheatcroft to W. A. Tackwell's farm, where he will be engaged in tilling the soil.

Our school closed Thursday, and in our midst we were glad to behold the face and grasp the hand of our dear old friend, J. C. Harden. We understand he is not going to remain with us but a few days, nevertheless, the talk made by him and R. C. McMaster were greatly appreciated.

Little Miss Blanche Sullenger is on the sick list.

Dr. Moore, of Tolu, was here Sunday.

Our lodge at Irma is growing and getting along fine. It's for our good, come along men and boys and join for a cause that is just.

Farmers are hustling around getting ready to farm.

We are sorry to report Chas. Perry no better.

E. F. Sullenger was here Saturday.

Miss Ethel Funkhouser went to Marion last week.

We have plenty of water and muddy roads in these parts.

REPTON.

We are having some very bad weather.

W. S. Jones and daughter went to Sturgis Sunday.

Rev. W. B. Brooks, of Sturgis, filled his regular appointment at this place Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. H. C. Hopewell passed through this place Monday en route to his home at Sturgis.

Mrs. Marie Smith is very ill at this writing.

There was an entertainment at Ben Duval's Thursday night.

Mrs. Pearl Giltbert, of Blackford attended church here Saturday.

Miss Laura McChesney was the guest of Mrs. Onie King Thursday afternoon.

Harris Smith, of Sturgis, was called to the bedside of his mother, who is very ill, Monday.

TRIBUNE.

James & James moved their saw mill from Uncle Billie Hill's to the Repton neighborhood Tuesday of last week.

William James and son, J. L., have moved to their farm near Tribune.

W. M. Towery was in Marion Thursday on business.

Mrs. F. I. Travis spent last week in Marion the guest of her son, Dr. Travis.

J. A. Pickens and family visited J. E. Perry and family, of Iron Hill Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Taylor, of Marion, was here Thursday to look at a mule belonging to Lewis Horning, which is badly crippled.

Bro. LaRue passed through here on his way to Shady Grove Friday and spent the night with J. A. Pickens.

Some of our young people attended the last day of the Lamb school Friday and report a nice time.

The roads in this section are very bad.

Dr. Perry is on the sick list.

Bob Spence is very ill.

Commercial Teachers Wanted.

The business colleges, all over the United States, are seeking well equipped and reliable young teachers, but the demand is far in excess of the supply. Teachers who desire permanency and increase of salary have now the opportunity of a life time. For full information, address Bowling Green Business University, Bowling Green, Kentucky. 35-3

Notice.

To my old friends that are owing me, will please call and settle with me as I am needing the money.

Respectfully,

REPTON.

Most all the farmers are done burning plant beds.

Roads are very bad in this vicinity.

Prof. W. K. Powell who has been very sick is now on the road to recovery.

Willie Jones, now employed by the West Kentucky Coal Co., as coal digger at Sturgis, visited his parents here a few days ago.

John S. Brantly called on his best girl last Sunday.

John Jones, formerly of this place but now working in the box factory at Evansville, writes that he is well pleased with his work in that city.

Since Mr. Sam Asher's large dwelling and mercantile store burned our town seems very dull. We would be glad that some one financially able to handle a general line of everything needed in a country town like this would locate here.

Lonnie Moore and sister, Bertha, two of our leading school teachers, will start to Bowling Green soon to attend school.

Charlie and Fred Howerton have purchased the old homestead, Howerton farm consisting of 200 acres and are repairing it in first class shape.

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainspring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.

In such cases the one sure remedy which speedily removes the cause, and restores the feminine organism to a healthy, normal condition is LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Will Young, of 6 Columbia Ave., Rockland, Me., says:

"I was troubled for a long time with dreadful backaches and a pain in my side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to try it; after taking three bottles I can truly say that I never felt so well in my life."

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had very severe backaches, and pressing-down pains. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me and made me feel like a new woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

BRITAIN'S AWAKENING

Opinions of Eminent Englishmen on Municipal Ownership.

Increasing Debt and Taxes, Failure to Provide For the Future, Reckless Expenditure and Difficulty in Keeping Good Men as Officials Are Some of the Results They Note—The Open Door For Socialism.

The Yorkshire Observer quotes the mayor of Bradford as saying in a public meeting that on account of the great demands upon the time of members of the council it was difficult to get good men to enter or remain in that body. Yet the corporation had £11,000,000 invested in its undertakings, which must be managed in some way or other, good, bad or indifferent.

According to Dr. Ingram, chairman of the finance committee of Woolwich, that borough reached the verge of bankruptcy under the management of the M. O. party, which tried to show that the electric plant was profitable by the simple expedient of not paying bills. The new administration was faced with a floating indebtedness of $75,000, which has to be provided for by taxation.

The Yorkshire Observer states that at a meeting of the Rotherham borough council Alderman Gummer objected to the amount which the gas undertaking contributed to the rates on the ground that it had been made possible only by raising the price of gas and thus making its consumers bear an unfair proportion of the rates. This bore especially upon the poor, who use gas instead of electricity.

If a city is well governed municipal ownership is the most dangerous thing imaginable and should be carefully avoided. There is always the danger that the public utilities the city is supposed to own will become nothing more or less than the private property of the people at the head of the government, who will work to their own advantage and the enhancement of their private wealth—William T. Stead, Editor Review of Reviews.

At the fifth annual conference of the Municipal Tramways association at W. Holford, general manager of the Salford corporation tramways, stated that the probable average life of rails was twelve years. Commenting upon the fact that in many cities no depreciation or renewal fund was being set aside, he "earnestly warned the gentlemen responsible that serious results would follow in ten or twelve years' time, when heavy calls would have to be made upon the ratepayers for the purpose of renewals."

Four years ago London took over its waterworks, with the result that water rates have increased rather than diminished. Referring to the operating expenses, Sir Melville Beachcroft, chairman of the water board, recently said:

"So far it must be admitted that no saving has been effected. I do not think that it was ever anticipated that there would be any saving in the expenses of administration, as the management of a trading concern by a municipal body must always involve expenditure quite outside that which falls on a private company."

In my opinion, the root of the evil is to be found in the too great facilities afforded by parliament for crazy municipal traders to borrow money upon periods of repayment out of all proportion to the lifetime of the work upon which the money is expended. In Huddersfield we are wearing out our third set of tram rails and yet payment for the first set was not completed until 1937. In our capital of £414,000 for some thirty miles of tramways there is at least £100,000 for which we cannot produce any asset whatever.—T. H. Moore, M.P., Alderman and Chairman, Huddersfield Corporation Tramways.

An English correspondent writes:

"The tram cars in Liverpool until late years were owned by a private company, whereas now they are owned by the corporation. In the time of private ownership overcrowding was unknown; now it is the rule. On inquiring the reason of the change I was told that it was this: The regulations as to numbers remain the same, but they are never enforced. The police dare not enforce it because they are servants of the corporation; the corporation will not enforce it because its enforcement would mean a reduction in the receipts, and the borough bench so largely consists of justices either members of the corporation or under its influence that no conviction is sought for by a private person who might be obtained."

Keir Hardie, one of the Socialist members of parliament, voiced the sentiments of English Socialists when he said at Bradford a year ago:

"It becomes increasingly evident that Socialism in this country will come through the municipalities—municipal tram, municipal water, municipal gas, municipal electricity, municipal bread, municipal coal and municipal land. These things are all putting the people, or will put them, in possession and control of the essentials of life, and that is what Socialism aims at."

Boswell, N. M., has voted two to one against bonding for a city water plant.

NEW ZEALAND'S RAILWAYS.

Keen Financial Analysis by Professor Le Rossignol of Denver.

A recent issue of Moody's Magazine contains a thorough analysis of "New Zealand Railway Finance" by Professor J. E. Le Rossignol of the University of Denver. The writer points out that the New Zealand government, which owns the railways, "borrows money at 3.75 per cent and latterly at 4 per cent for the maintenance of railways which earn less than 1.50 per cent upon the capital cost, and this yearly deficit of over 2.25 per cent must ultimately fall up on the taxpayers."

Commenting on a tabular exhibit of the finances, Professor Le Rossignol says:

"From these figures it is clear that the capital cost of the roads had increased out of all proportion to the increase in mileage, that the working expenses have increased much faster than the gross earnings and that the net loss in ten years has amounted to the enormous sum of £4,380,147, or more than $21,000,000, and this in a time of great prosperity, which cannot be expected to last forever."

After showing that fares average about the same as in this country the service is described as follows:

"There are no night trains, and the service on most of the lines is rather infrequent. The best service in New Zealand is that between Christchurch and Dunedin, where there are two express trains daily, traveling at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour. On most of the other lines express trains travel from fifteen to twenty-one miles an hour and ordinary trains from ten to fourteen miles an hour."

The author goes into considerable detail in regard to freight rates, which he considers to average about five times those of the United States. The most serious charge against the management is that it lends itself to political uses.

"Politics has had altogether too much to do with the construction of roads, the appointment and promotion of officials, the frequency of service, the fixing of rates and the departmental administration in general. Railways have frequently been built for the sake of securing votes rather than traffic and business has been so often subordinated to politics that it is no wonder that the net returns are political rather than financial in their character."

DEAD OR DYING.

Reaction is Slow, but Sure, Against Civic Commercialism.

The mayor of Holland, Mich., writes that negotiations are on foot to have a private company supply the lighting. It would cost $30,000 to put the municipal plant in condition for efficient service.

At a citizens' meeting recently held in Trenton, Mich., the city council was instructed to enter into negotiations for the sale of the electric light plant. Chester, Ill., has voted against the purchase of the waterworks system.

Manitowoc, Wis., recently voted two to one against purchasing the waterworks and four to three in favor of submitting the question of rates to the state commission. Only about a quarter of the regular vote was polled, which is not encouraging to advocates of the "referendum."

By a vote of 329 to 44 the people of Washington, Ind., rejected a scheme for remodeling the municipal lighting plant notwithstanding the alternative presented by the common council of providing for extensive repairs or eventually abandoning the business of municipal lighting. The plant has fallen behind year after year, although liberal appropriations have been made for its support, and repairs have been neglected till it is little better than a mass of junk. An expert who recently examined it decided that it would require $28,000 to put the plant in good running order, and the people were asked to vote on the question of expense. The negative vote means that the plant will be sold.

Who Profits?

Politicians manage municipal affairs in such a way that their own interests are cared for first and public service is only a minor and subsidiary feature. Money collected from taxpayers is spent for the benefit of the "gang" instead of for that of the people, and the consequence is that enterprises conducted by the city are invariably not merely ill managed, but enormously expensive.

There is no reason to hope that this state of affairs will be changed so long as human nature remains what it is, and therefore the people will not be likely in their sober senses to entrust any public utility that can safely be left in the hands of private enterprise to any city government.—Chicago Journal.

The Dream and the Reality.

Municipal jobs are usually given out as political rewards. The fitness of the applicant, his faithfulness to duty, his honesty, integrity and industry are all secondary considerations. His faithfulness and his value to party or faction are of first importance to the party managers, who really run all municipal plants. The result is indifference and extravagance, high costs of production and operation—in short, the complete annihilation of the beautiful theory of the dreamers.—Connellsville (Pa.) Courier.

The Tax Rate in Indiana.

Indiana is one of the few states that have a bureau of statistics. Its latest report shows that the tax rate in the twenty-eight cities which operate their own light and water plants is $1.00, while the rate in the other fifty-seven cities is only $1.77.

The Passing of Hargis.

James Hargis is dead, and the manner of his death was the most horrible imaginable. Shot down by his only son, a son who had been indulged by his parents, a son who had always been given every luxury he desired, a son who was the petted idol of a fond father, a son who thousands of times has been kissed and caressed by parents who planned for him a great future. But now all is over so far as the father is concerned. He has been shot to death by "home of his bone and flesh of his flesh," his own son. Could his greatest enemies wish for him a more horrible death? In fact did he have an enemy who wished for him, such an end? It seems impossible. After all was Judge Hargis guilty of all the vile deeds of which his enemies accused him? Truly and honestly we doubt it. Once and only once the writer shook hands with Judge Hargis and looked with a searching look into his manly eyes, that part of man which is said to be the index to the soul, and we are free to confess that our limited knowledge of phrenology and power to read the man through the index of the soul, revealed nothing which denoted the criminal. Hargis had a kind look and his voice had that peculiar ring about it, calculated to make friends and not foes of his fellow men. While he may have been guilty of many wrong deeds, and if there is anything in rumor he was. Yet, who knows the hidden causes which drove him to do these things, if indeed he was guilty? Now as he is dead let us forgive. Let us also hope that Kentucky may have no more feuds and that lawlessness may cease in all parts of the State. Whether Judge Hargis was guilty or not guilty, he has gone, and his going in such a tragic manner is to be regretted. Let us hope that the sins of Judge Hargis, be they few or many, were forgiven, and further, that no other Kentucky home may ever be broken up by the sad occurrence of the son killing the father. — Dixon Journal.

Closing Exercises.

Friday Feb. 14th, Prof. Hardin closed a most successful school at Lily Dale in which both pupil and parents took great interest. We as pupils of Mr. Hardin were very sorry to see the last day come as it has broken the ties of friendship and love that have bound us together for the past six months. That is, it has taken us to our many homes and has set him free to do anything he may choose, still we will remember how kind and obliging he has been to us. Never did a pupil go to him for anything, no matter what, he was always ready and willing to help.

The program for the last day consisted of recitations, dialogues, tableaux and music, of which all were well said and played. It was a very rainy day, but nevertheless there were quite a number present and all seemed to enjoy themselves. At the noon hour there was quite a nice dinner spread and all ate heartily. We must thank the ladies of the district for preparing this dinner and also for the loan of curtains, etc. for our use on this occasion.

We have in Lily Dale District as good people as can be found in the state and we hope that Mr. Hardin thinks so, as we all have done our best to make the school a pleasure to him, as well as a profit to us. We would be very glad to have Mr. Hardin with us again next year, but we do not know where he will be, or whether he will teach at all or not. If he does teach, the pupils of the school that he gets can rest assured that they have a teacher who will do anything in his power for their advancement and they need never fear but what he will be a friend to them always and anywhere.

May happiness peace and prosperity go with Mr. Hardin through life, is the sincere wishes of his Lily Dale Pupils. A PUPIL.

A Cure For Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louisville, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at Jas. H. Perfected Wheat Positively Cures Constipation.

Is the root of most of the ills that afflict humanity. By the stoppage of the waste matter, the body becomes clogged with impurities and poisons. These poisons are carried to all parts of the system by the blood, deadening tissues and nerves, resulting in Neurasthenia, Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Dropsy and dozens of other ailments.

Within three days after the first meal of Perfected Wheat the bowels become normal and move regularly.

Perfected Wheat is a purifier as well as a cleaner. It purifies, sweetens and tones up the internal vital organs.

Perfected wheat is a breakfast-dinner-supper food, specially prepared by a scientific process, at middletown, Kentucky, and is crisp, ready-to-eat. Trial package for $1.

FROM THE PINE WOODS

Hyomei's Aromatic Air Is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh or Cough Nothing.

When using the Hyomei treatment, the air you breathe is like that on the mountains high above sea level where the pine woods fill the air with aromatic healing that gives health and strength to those suffering from diseases of the respiratory organs. Breathe through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the healing balsams of Hyomei reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying all catarrhal growth and giving quick relief and cure.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures of catarrh, when restoring health to chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery. Its first action is at the start of the disease, when the breath is becoming offensive and when discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat and frequent sneezing or spasmodic coughing begin to make life a burden. At the first symptom of catarrhal trouble, use Hyomei and see how quickly you get relief and cure.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00 and is sold by Haynes & Taylor under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

In Great Demand.

The United States government recently waived the Civil Service examination in order to induce stenographers to go to the Isthmus of Panama to do stenographic work at $125 per month. There has never been as urgent and increasing demands for stenographers in all the history of this country.

The Business University at Bowling Green, Kentucky, trains as many good stenographers as any other business institution in America, and yet, it is unable to supply even half the calls made upon it for stenographers.

AN EXTRA SESSION

Rumor Now Has It That Kentucky Legislators Will Be Kept at Work.

LITTLE BEING ACCOMPLISHED

Senatorial Deadlock and Tension Over Local Option Bill Have Put the Brakes on All the Normal Activities of the Present Assembly—All the "Interests" Appear to Be Fighting for Delay and the Session Is Merely Dragging Along.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 25.—One would think the senatorial fight had become a stale and uninteresting subject in Frankfort by this time, but it is nearly the sole topic of conversation now just as it was the first week in January, in every little coterie of politicians that happen together in the hotels every day and night. The deadlock still continues and the death of Representative McKnight of Mason county seems to have made no change in the situation, except that it now takes one less to elect than it did before McKnight's death. Beckham lost another vote when Representative Arnett of Covington voted for Don Greenman of Ollie James, but as long as none of the Democrats who desert Beckham vote for Bradley, the deadlock will continue. The county unit local option bill is still hanging fire, and it is still asserted that upon its fate will depend the result of the senatorial race. The legislative session will end by adjournment on March 17, so that only about three weeks more remain.

There seems to be something curious, not to say peculiar, about the Kentucky legislatures, or rather some of the Kentucky legislatures. When the legislatures of other states find that something is needed by the state, they appropriate enough money to get what is needed and get it of the first class. In other words, what is worth doing is worth doing well. Not so in Kentucky however. Ordinarily when the state of Kentucky needs something that other states readily pay $50,000 or $100,000 for, it is not until the legislature adjourns that it is found out that the legislature has appropriated but $10,000 or $20,000 for the purpose. It is not until the legislature adjourns that it is found out that the legislature has appropriated but $10,000 or $20,000 for the purpose. It is not until the legislature adjourns that it is found out that the legislature has appropriated but $10,000 or $20,000 for the purpose.

SENATOR CONN LINN

President Pro Tem of the Senate, main in which to do anything. All the "Interests" appear to be fighting for delay. Motions to adjourn early each day without doing any real work, are constantly adopted. As a result all the bills will be jammed together the last ten days of the session and some vicious legislation will likely be enacted. There is some talk of an extra session being called, but it is not believed that Governor Willson will call one unless the appropriation to complete the new statehouse fails to pass, and even that may not induce him to call one.

The senate has passed by a unanimous vote the Remker bill providing a pension for indigent and disabled Confederate veterans. The provisions of the bill are carefully guarded and no one can receive the $125 per year if he has as much as $500 worth of property, nor if he has a member of his immediate family that is able to take care of him. A board of investigation in each county is provided for, and each applicant for a pension must have his case passed on by this board favorably before he can draw the pension.

Neither the senate nor house has taken any final action yet on the numerous bills to repeal the dog tax law, but the house may pass the question this week. The sheep breeders are making an active fight against the repeal of the law, and a number of members have changed their views since coming here. The State Farmers' Institute, which met here last week, with an attendance of about 200 from all over the state, adopted by an almost unanimous vote a resolution calling upon the legislature not to repeal the dog tax. The advocates of the repeal, however, are vehement in their demands for the passage of the bill, and it may be pushed through yet.

When the legislatures of other states find that something is needed by the state, they appropriate enough money to get what is needed and get it of the first class. Every day of the session brings fresh evidence that the senatorial race and the county unit local option bill are so closely interwoven that they cannot be separated. The two candidates for United States senator are going into the campaign on the basis of their position on the county unit bill, and the county unit bill is being pushed through the legislature as a condition of securing the support of the county unit bill. The county unit bill is being pushed through the legislature as a condition of securing the support of the county unit bill.

The cheese-purpers and record-makers are afraid to vote their sentiments on any of the education appropriation bills because the cause of education is so popular now in Kentucky that it may mean political suicide to anyone who dares to oppose any bill that stands for educational progress. This was demonstrated in the house last week when the bill appropriating $500,000 to the state college and the state normal schools came up for discussion and passage. The bill gives $150,000 to each of the normal schools and $200,000 to the state college, one-third to be paid this year, one-third next year and the other third in 1910. The cheese-purpers all expressed themselves as being in favor of the bill, but they urged that the amounts appropriated were too large. This argument reduced to its final absurdity would be the same as asking the legislature to meet in a tent without a stove in zero weather. The bill, however, was not in the majority and the bill passed by a vote of 63 to 17, and will probably pass the senate almost unanimously. All of which goes to show that the record-maker and alleged economist, who wants to give you a mosquito-bar overcoat when a chinchilla would hardly keep you warm, does not always succeed.

There is a bitter war on between two factions of the Kentucky Dairymen's association, and it looks like two associations will be the result. It all comes about over the bill in the legislature providing for a rigid inspection of all cows and the killing of all those found to be infected with tuberculosis. The annual meeting of the association was held here last week, and after a spirited argument over the propriety of passing the bill, the meeting split up like a political convention and one faction left the building with the avowed intention of forming a new association. Some of the dairymen say that every herd of cows in the state has more or less tuberculosis in it and that such has been the case from time immemorial, and that if the proposed law passes, nearly every herd of dairy cows in the state will have to be slaughtered when there is no real reason for it.

Senator Burnham of Madison county has introduced a bill that is intended to reach the unlawful acts committed by the "night riders." The bill provides that where two or more persons conspire together to commit some unlawful act and do commit said act, the circuit judge, attorney general or the commonwealth's attorney may have a change of venue to another county to have the unlawful acts investigated by the grand jury of that county, and if the grand jury of that county indicts anyone they shall be tried in that county and not in the county where the act was committed. It is claimed that this is the only method by which a fair and impartial investigation of the acts of the "night riders" can be secured, as the grand juries and petit juries in the county where the acts are committed are said to contain members of the "night riders" association.

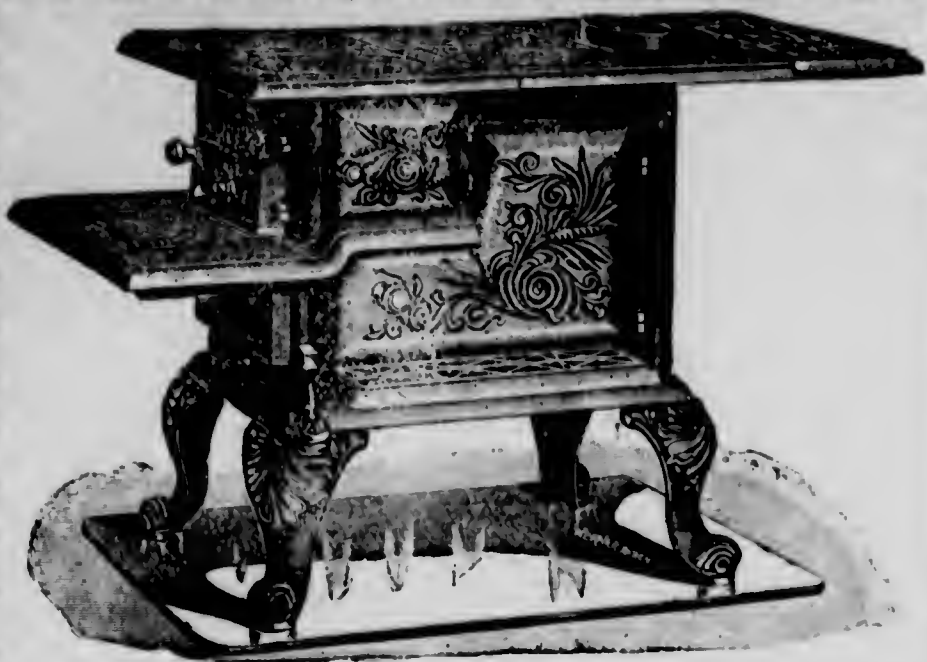

Every day of the session brings fresh evidence that the senatorial race and the county unit local option bill are so closely interwoven that they cannot be separated. The two candidates for United States senator are going into the campaign on the basis of their position on the county unit bill, and the county unit bill is being pushed through the legislature as a condition of securing the support of the county unit bill. Burned to Death.

Mrs. Rachel Catherine Howerton, the aged mother of R. L. Howerton, was burned to death at his home near Repton last week. She was eighty-four years of age and had been partially paralyzed for eight years. Until four months ago she could speak, but at that time she was paralyzed in her speech also.

She was alone when she caught fire and no one knows just how it happened. She lingered only a day after the accident.

Stop that tickling Cough! Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure will surely stop it, and with perfect safety. It is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else even with very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No Opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or surprise. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by Jas. H. Orme.

Hyomei's Aromatic Air Is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh or Cost Nothing.

When using the Hyomei treatment, the air you breathe is like that on the mountains high above sea level where the pine woods fill the air with aromatic healing that gives health and strength to those suffering from diseases of the respiratory organs. Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the healing balsams of Hyomei reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying all catarrhal action and giving quick relief and cure.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures of catarrh, often restoring health in chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery. Its best action is at the start of the disease, when the breath is becoming offensive and when discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat and frequent sneezing or spasmodic coughing begin to make life a burden. At the first symptom of catarrhal trouble, use Hyomei and see how quickly you get relief and cure.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00 and is sold by Haynes & Taylor under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

In Great Demand.

The United States government recently waived the Civil Service examination in order to induce stenographers to go to the Isthmus of Panama to do stenographic work at $125 per month. There has never been as urgent and unceasing demands for stenographers in all the history of this country.

The Business University at Bowling Green, Kentucky, trains as many good stenographers as any other business institution in America, and yet, it is unable to supply even half the calls made upon it for stenographers.

AN EXTRA SESSION

Rumor Now Has It That Kentucky Legislators Will Be Kept at Work.

LITTLE BEING ACCOMPLISHED

Senatorial Deadlock and Tension Over Local Option Bill Have Put the Brakes on All the Normal Activities of the Present Assembly—All the "Interests" Appear to Be Fighting for Delay and the Session Is Merely Dragging Along.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 25.—One would think the senatorial fight had become a stale and uninteresting subject in Frankfort by this time, but it is nearly the sole topic of conversation now. Just as it was the first week in January, in every little corner of political circles that happen together in the hotels every day and night. The deadlock still continues and the death of Representative McKnight of Mason county seems to have made no change in the situation, except that it now takes one less to elect than it did before McKnight's death. Bookham lost another vote when Representative Arnett of Covington voted for Con gressman Ollie James, but as long as none of the Democrats who desert Bookham vote for Bradley, the deadlock will continue. The county unit local option bill is still hanging fire, and it is still asserted that upon its fate will depend the result of the senatorial race. The legislative session will end by limitation on March 17, so that only about three weeks more remain.

SENATOR CONN LINN

[President Pro Tem of the Senate.] main in which to do anything. All the "Interests" appear to be fighting for delay. Motions to adjourn early each day without doing any real work, are constantly adopted. As a result all the bills will be jammed together the last ten days of the session and some vicious legislation will likely be enacted. There is some talk of an extra session being called, but it is not believed that Governor Willson will call one unless the appropriation to complete the new statehouse fails to pass, and even that may not induce him to call one.

The senate has passed by a unanimous vote the Reinker bill providing a pension for indigent and disabled Confederate veterans. The provisions of the bill are carefully guarded and no one can receive the $125 per year if he has as much as $600 worth of property, nor if he has a member of his immediate family that is able to take care of him. A board of investigation in each county is provided for, and each applicant for a pension must have his case passed on by this board favorably before he can draw the pension from the state. The bill does not conflict or interfere with the Confederate Soldiers' Home at Pewee Valley. It is believed the bill will pass the house of representatives with but little opposition, and an amendment may be adopted providing that any servant who accompanied his master while serving in the Confederate army, and who is indigent or disabled, may also be entitled to a pension. This provision was in the bill as first presented but owing to the fact that the session was not carefully drawn, it was stricken out.

Neither the senate nor house has taken any final action yet on the numerous bills to repeal the dog-tax law, but the house may pass the question this week. The sheep breeders are making an active fight against the repeal of the law, and a number of members have changed their views since coming here. The State Farmers' Institute, which met here last week, with an attendance of about 200 from all over the state, adopted by an almost unanimous vote a resolution calling upon the legislature not to repeal the dog tax. The advocates of the repeal, however, are vehement in their demands for the passage of the bill, and it may be pushed through yet.

There seems to be something ominous, not to say perilous, about the Kentucky legislatures, or rather some of the Kentucky legislatures. When the legislatures of other states find that something is needed by the state, they appropriate enough money to get what is needed and get it of the first class. In other words what is worth doing is worth doing well. Not so in Kentucky however. Ordinarily when the state of Kentucky needs something that other states readily pay $50,000 or $100,000 for, in the first class the legislature appropriates into it in bond and in cash, $50,000 or $100,000, and the state is left with a poor record. A case in point is the state capital building. The two can't date for the United States senate some time ago, but in the meantime they have postponed the senatorial race by disposing of all the county unit bill, and by disposing of and Bradley charging the Bookham campaign is only a good stand still. Meanwhile there is a persistent rumor that if the legislature fails to pass the bill to elect Governor Willson, who is now out of the state, the legislature will be forced to call an extra session. It is a rumor, but it is a rumor that is being spread by the legislature. The legislature is now in a position to pass a bill to elect Governor Willson, but it is not doing so. The legislature is now in a position to pass a bill to elect Governor Willson, but it is not doing so. There is a bitter war on between two factions of the Kentucky Dairy-men's association, and it looks like two associations will be the result. It all comes about over the bill in the legislature providing for a rigid inspection of all cows and the killing of all those found to be infected with tuberculosis. The annual meeting of the association was held here last week, and after a spirited argument over the propriety of passing the bill, the meeting split up like a political convention and one faction left the building with the avowed intention of forming a new association. Some of the dairymen say that every herd of cows in the state has more or less tuberculosis in it and that such has been the case from time immemorial, and that if the proposed law passes nearly every herd of dairy cows in the state will have to be slaughtered when there is no real reason for it.

Senator Hornum of Madison county has introduced a bill that is intended to reach the unlawful acts committed by the "night riders." The bill provides that where two or more persons conspire together to commit some unlawful act and do commit said act, the circuit judge, attorney general or the commonwealth's attorney may have a change of venue to another county to have the unlawful acts investigated by the grand jury of that county, and if the grand jury of that county indicts anyone they shall be tried in that county and not in the county where the act was committed. It is claimed that this is the only method by which a fair and impartial investigation of the acts of the "night riders" can be secured, as the grand jury and petit jury in the county where the acts are committed are said to contain members of the "night riders" association.

Every day of the session brings fresh evidence that the senatorial race and the county unit local option bill are so closely interwoven that they cannot be separated. The two can't date for the United States senate some time ago, but in the meantime they have postponed the senatorial race by disposing of all the county unit bill, and by disposing of and Bradley charging the Bookham campaign is only a good stand still. Meanwhile there is a persistent rumor that if the legislature fails to pass the bill to elect Governor Willson, who is now out of the state, the legislature will be forced to call an extra session. Burned to Death.

Mrs. Rachel Catherine Howerton, the aged mother of R. L. Howerton, was burned to death at his home near Repton last week. She was eighty-four years of age and had been partially paralyzed for eight years. Until four months ago she could speak, but at that time she was paralyzed in her speech also.

She was alone when she caught fire and no one knows just how it happened. She lingered only a day after the accident.
